- As conference inputs, there are models according to which a key individual has been commissioned to author - linked with his name - a 'Report' on the topic of a later conference or of expected important governmental or intergovernmental policy decisions, e.g.:
 - 'Bush report': 'Science - The Endless Frontier', a report commissioned by US-President Roosevelt, Washington 1944
 - 'Auger-Report': 'Current Trends in Scientific Research' (UN-UNESCO) 1961
 - 'Buzzati-Traverso' Report: 'The scientific enterprise, today and tomorrow' (UNESCO) 1977
 - Other models can be mentioned in which a conference process or the preparations for a Ministerial meeting have been set in motion through an ad hoc Committee of Experts or by a Commission, e.g.
 - 'Freeman-Report': 'Science, Economic Growth and Government Policy' (OECD) 1963
 - 'Schneider-Report': 'Fundamental Research and the Policies of Governments', OECD 1966
 - 'Brooks-Report': 'Science, Growth and Society' (OECD) 1971
 - 'Delapalme-Report' 'Technical Change and Economic Policy - Science and Technology in the New Economic Context' (OECD) 1980

- 'World Commission on Culture and Development' (Pérez de Cuéllar Commission) 1995
- 'The Independent Commission on Population and Quality of Life' (Maria de Lourdes Pintasilgo) 1996
- Another formula introduced by the 'Club of Rome' is the presentation of complex issues in form of a report 'prepared for' a particular institution, e.g.
 - 'The Limits to Growth', A report for the Club of Rome's Project on the Predicament of Mankind by D.H. Meadows, J. Randers and W. W. Behrens III (1972)
 - 'L'éducation - un trésor est caché dedans', Rapport à l'UNESCO de la Commission Internationale sur l'éducation pour le vingt et unième siècle, présidée par Jacques Delors, 1996
- Still another formula consists in commissioning the analysis of the 'state of the art' of selected topics either on an ad hoc basis to several individuals or to a Standing Committee, e.g.
 - 'State of the World' Reports prepared by the Worldwatch Institute
 - 'World Resources' Reports prepared by the World Resources Institute in collaboration with UNEP
 - 'UNESCO World Science Reports 1993 and 1996'
 - 'The World Plan of Action for the Application of Science and Technology to Development' prepared by UN-ACAST 1971
